HOUSTON, TX / ACCESSWIRE / April 22, 2021 / Transportation Management Software AscendTMS, and freight matching platform 123Loadboard announced they are providing an in-depth integration of services through AscendTMS to allow carriers, brokers, and shippers to access 123Loadboard's freight matching marketplace with the intention of making the load searching and freight booking process more efficient for members.

This in-depth integration will enable members extensive access to 123Loadboard services through the AscendTMS software where they can experience load searching in real-time as freight is added by brokers and shippers via the free basic AscendTMS subscription (a valid membership to 123Loadboard is required). "This integration gives AscendTMS and 123Loadboard members the flexibility to extract required information from both services at the same time thereby improving the efficiency of their workflows and speeding up the freight-moving process," says Loarn Metzen, V.P., 123Loadboard.

123Loadboard is a popular, freight matching platform and their members will now be able to easily search and access load information through AscendTMS with minimal effort enabling them to book and move loads faster.

"Leveraging the power of the in-depth integration with the 123Loadboard platform, AscendTMS members can look forward to serving their fleets using the load searching connectivity solution to streamline their freight process," said Tim Higham, President and CEO of InMotion Global.
